FIELD NOTES

As the season has officially taken the turn to Summer, July is when we begin to see a huge increase in specialty produce coming from our farm in Daresbury.

The polytunnels at Field 28 are brimming with heritage tomatoes, cucumbers and squashes, courgette flowers and trombetta squash that will soon form a sprawling green canopy as the month continues. The brassica beds are producing a bounty of cavalo nero, red and green kale, baby beetroot, hispi and roscoff onions. Beyond the leafy greens lie rows of young French peas and outdoor herbs - fennel, parsley, chervil marigold, nasturtiums, and dill pollen.
